

Ben >

different). But we are talking with banks and insurance companies about how they can act on their own and what helpful signals we might be able to send

Fintrac basically told us unless we declare it seditious then they are limited in what they can do other than monitoring

Or if we know there is foreign terrorist involvement

iMessage

